ernoon, some of the war stocks breaking as much as eight points between sales, owing to the execution of stop-loss orders. Studebaker was the weakest of the war issues, and at one time showed a loss of about twenty-two points from yesterday's closing. Most commission houses reported after the close that they had been seliers on bajance. With the improved technical position due to the cleaning out of weak accounts conservative brokers were inclined to look for a raily.

It developed today that many commission houses had sent out calls late Saturday for additional margin from customers. Some clients who were unable to meet these calls were sold yesterday, but others who had made promises to have the necessary funds on hand, but who did not make good their promises to have the necessary funds on hand, but who did not make good their promises yesterday, were sold out early today. Commission houses reported that the amount of stock sold on "stop" orders was very greaf.

New York, Nov. 2.—The cleaning out of weakly margined accounts and forced selling by speculators resulted in severe declines in the stock market today and the establishment of new low prices for this reaction. Notwithstanding the stablishment of new low prices for this reaction. Notwithstanding the sharp break and the apparent wiping out of weak holdings, the general market closed weak and around the low figures.

Yesterday's sharp decline brought in many buying orders from commission houses at the opening today, with the result that the market displayed strength in the early trading gains, running from a fraction to three points, the maximum advance being in Baldwin Locomotive Canadian Pacific was the strongest of the ralia. Copper shares also were in demand. Following the buying movement in the first hour of business prices eased off and the professional traders resumed their attack on the list.

New York, Nov. 2.—Otton was irregular today, and after displaying heavings ralied and closed steady at a net gline of heaving heavings resulted declines at a start an advance of 3 to 8 points, but declined after the start on active and agressive opened firmer at an advance of 3 to 8 points, but declined after the start on active and agressive which carried the active more more like the start on active and agressive which carried the active more more like the start on active and agressive which carried the active more more like the start on active and spread to 1.00, or 18 points under leat light he actual article, both from domestic mills and exporters.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Bears in wheat are in full control, and they now outnumber the builts by ten to one. Sentiment is quite bearish, and conditions favor that side of the market at the moment. Declines were established of % to 1% today, and had not those who oversoid early in the day come into the market as buyers later, a further and more pronounced recession would have been seen. Price changes were comparatively small, but there was a feeling of unrest during the entire session.

The market sagged slowly, as wheat is accumulating more rapidly, and those who are in a position to know made the claim that the visible supply on Monday next will show a further increase. While the export clearances of breadatum's were liberal.—1,122,000 busbels today—they were largely Canadian wheat.

The heavy morement off the farms and the willingness of producers to sell their wheat freely was reflected in the receipts at Western markets today, the total amounting to 3,0%,000 busbels, compared with 2,03,000 busbels for the corresponding time a pear ago.

Cash sales here were 25,000 busbels, and at the seaboard 250,000 busbels. There were asles here to go to store of 100,000 busbels, showing that the cash demand was less urgent.

Carn declined % to %c for the nearty and deferred months, respectively. A determined drive was made at the market right from the start, and this was the case especially for the December delivery. Corn held well in price, when the decline in wheat is considered. Cash sales were 25,000 busbels, including 69,000 busbels for export.

Oata were selling pressure for the same reason that corn was sold freely. Cash sales were 25,000 busbels, including 69,000 busbels of grove and the decitine in prices at the yard here caused very Beeral selling during the entire day. Some of yesterday's buyers were conspicuous sellers of January lard and ribe, and a prominent local trader put out quite a line of May lard.
